Organization of Legal Professionals eDiscovery Certification Exam Candidate Handbook

The CeDP Candidate Handbook

This handbook has been prepared to explain what is needed to register for the CeDP Examination. In it, you will find information regarding eligibility factors, the examination process and an application to take the examination.

Background Information

eDiscovery Professionals come from a wide variety of backgrounds with even more varied job descriptions. Some eDiscovery Professionals are attorneys while other are litigation support professionals, consultants, IT professionals, vendors, paralegals, case managers, expert witnesses, law professors, PhD's. Some may have a degree in law, business administration, information management, programming, criminal justice, teaching, paralegal or other areas. Every one of these backgrounds brings special areas of expertise to the eDiscovery field. Much of our training has come after employment as an eDiscovery Professional. Every law firm, institution and discipline have unique requirements.

The examination must be based on those areas that are common to all eDiscovery Professionals. It must, out of necessity, be a basic examination to test core competencies. Questions are formulated to be straight-forward and easily understood.

Items on the examination that you deal with on a daily basis should not require extensive study on your part. It is anticipated that this is part of your working knowledge. Areas that are not part of your daily job requirements may require some research and study. For instance, if you do not deal with substantive issues, you will want to study the requirements of this aspect of eDiscovery. If you are from a country other than the United States, you will want to study the United States New Rules of Federal Discovery.

OLP, a non-profit and vendor neutral association, established the Certification Program for eDiscovery Professionals in order to create an internationally accepted level of knowledge, education and experience by which eDiscovery Professionals will be recognized by the legal community. The Certification Exam has been developed and designed with OLP's strategic partner, Pearson Vu, a division of Pearson Learning Solutions, the global leader in development of certification exams. Content has been provided by OLP while Pearson has provided a team of Ph.D.s and a measurement services team including psychometricians with advanced degrees in the science of measurement. They analyze test data, equate test forms, identify problem items, and conduct item pool reviews and gap analyses. These measurement professionals review performance statistics for every item and make recommendations for examination improvement, ensuring that the range of item difficulty is appropriate and that problem items are identified for review.

Those individuals so approved may use the title "Certified eDiscovery Professional" or CeDP.

Depending upon background, education, license and experience, a Certified eDiscovery Professional may serve as an attorney, paralegal, eDiscovery Manager, Litigation Support Manager, Practice Support Director, Litigation Support Analyst, consultant, vendor, law professor, case manager or other eDiscovery Professional involved in one or more aspects of eDiscovery including data collection, analysis, or monitoring; case management; protocols, best practices and standards; international eDiscovery; recruitment and enrollment of candidates, identification, process and analysis, trial presentation, information management, electronically stored information, preparation of reports; construction or monitoring of case report forms; records management, budget development; report preparation; education of other legal professionals, trial, drafting of pleadings and documents, protocol development; program administration; and research.

The certification examination has been developed by OLP's Certification Committee and Pearson Learning Solutions and designated members who have demonstrated expertise in the development, management, and administration of eDiscovery. Test questions have been written by OLP members from diverse backgrounds and job descriptions. The examination is intended to evaluate the applicant's knowledge and skill in comparison to the demands on an eDiscovery Legal Professional as they are found in practice of law as attorneys and non-attorneys. OLP has developed a standard core series of competencies that reflects the basic knowledge required of eDiscovery professionals. These Core Competencies are assessed by the Certification Examination.

Standards of Practice

It is the goal of the Organization of Legal Professionals to encourage members, and assure the competency of certified members, in their application of approved eDiscovery regulations and approved eDiscovery guidelines. Members are expected to adhere to national, state, local and provincial regulations and to international guideline and all applicable Federal, state and local laws and policies.

Examination Development

The certification examination has been developed by OLP's Certification Committee and designated members who have demonstrated expertise in the development, management, and administration of eDiscovery. OLP's partner in development of the exam is Pearson Vu. Test questions have been written by Legal Professionals from diverse backgrounds and job descriptions. The examination is intended to evaluate the applicant's level of knowledge and skill in comparison to the demands on an eDiscovery Professional as they are found in the practice of law and non-attorney duties.

Unlike many certifying organizations in the legal field, OLP's membership is made up of individuals with a wide variety of backgrounds and job descriptions. Much of the training required of a Legal Professional is specific to the law firm, practice specialty and discipline in which they are employed. It would be impossible to develop one examination that would measure a level of expertise for each specific area in the legal field. Satisfactory completion of the OLP Certification Examination indicates that the applicant has surpassed the minimum level of education and experience required of an eDiscovery Professional.

The world of eDiscovery is a constantly changing work environment for the eDiscovery Professional. For that reason, the Certification Program and the certification examinations will be a continually evolving project, which will be directed by the needs of the membership. It is anticipated that the certification program will develop levels of certification in the near future that will additionally define the term "Certified eDiscovery Professional."

Applying for the CeDP Exam

There three easy steps to begin the CeDP examination process:

1. Complete the application form
2. E-mail, fax or mail your application with supporting documents and payment. You may pay the application fee online via credit card or PayPal.
3. You may choose to take the certification exam with or without enrolling in the online, self-study prep courses. Once your application and payment has been received and approved, we will send you an identification number that allows you to download the prep courses (if you have signed up) and also allows you to register for the CeDP exam at any one of over 1,000 Pearson centers worldwide.

Qualifications and Eligibility Requirements:

There are two sets of experience requirements depending upon position or whether an applicant holds a baccalaureate degree.

To be eligible to sit for the CeDP Examination, all candidates must:

1. Provide three professional references.
2. Provide a resume or bio including employers' contact information.
3. Submit a completed application with supporting documentation and the examination fee.

For candidates who hold a J.D., baccalaureate degree, A.A./A.S. degree and/or are employed in the position of attorney or paralegal:

- Document at least 12 qualifying credits in e-discovery, litigation support and closely related fields based on education, training, professional certifications and professional experience in the field. There is no time limit associated with when the 12 qualifying credits were accrued.
- Written confirmation that you received your degree from the appropriate entity of your college or university.
- Demonstrate at least 3 years of eDiscovery experience.

For candidates who do not hold a baccalaureate degree and/or hold a position in technology, litigation support or other non-substantive position:

- Demonstrate at least 4 years of eDiscovery experience.
- Provide any certifications or certificates of completion for courses in eDiscovery, litigation support and closely related fields.

Education verifications are used to confirm that the candidate has received the degree and when the degree was conferred.

The degree must already be conferred at the time you submit the online application (i.e. have your diploma in hand). OLP will accept education verifications in one of the following three forms:

- Official transcript. (Official transcripts must be sent directly from the university or in an envelope sealed by the university.)
- Photocopies of diplomas, transcripts, certificates of completion and attendance.
- Letter from school dean, registrar or program director confirming that degree was conferred. (The letter must be printed on school/university letterhead and include the letter writer's title and contact information.)

- Official transcripts and letters confirming degree was conferred do not have to arrive with the application or other supporting documents but must be received by OLP prior to candidate's examination date.

Cost of the exam:

Cost for OLP Members:

Certification Exam only: 395.00 USD

Online prep course: 695.00 USD

Non-Members:

Certification Exam only: 595.00 USD

Online prep course: 895.00 USD

Please contact OLP for group discounts.

Candidates can save money on the cost of the exam by applying for OLP membership. The cost for OLP membership is $125/year.

The exam must be taken in Pearson VUE secured environment facilities.

Examination Content

The certification examination is made up of five major subject areas. Each major area will be included in each examination, but specific questions will vary from one examination date to another. The percentage of questions from each area will change slightly from one examination to another with each question equivalent in weight. There are 100 questions given in a two-hour time period in a secured facility with a proctor. This examination will be revised at least every two years following a review by the Certification Committee.

Period of Eligibility

Once approved, you will have one year within which to take the exam. After one year, you will be required to complete a new application and fulfill all the submission requirements again.

For each testing period that you intend to take the exam, you will need to use the same online application form to register your intent to test and pay the exam fee before the application deadline for that testing period. If you register to take the exam and later decide not to test, you will need to contact OLP to either transfer to another testing period (if eligible) or cancel your exam registration for the current testing period. Transfer or cancellation fees may apply depending on how far in advance you submit your request.

Policy on Rescheduling or Canceling an Examination Date

Refunds are not provided to candidates withdrawing from an exam after registration. Candidates with a need to change or cancel examination dates or times must do so no less than 72 hours before the scheduled examination date. OLP charges an administrative fee of $100 for members, $75 for members employed by a government agency and $250 for non-members for those changing or canceling prior to 72 hours. Please contact us regarding retaking the examination at info@theolp.org or 760-610-5462.

Scheduling Information

Appointments may be made in advance or on the day you wish to test, subject to availability. Pearson VUE offers a variety of scheduling options. Once your application has been approved, you will be offered a choice of facilities in which to take the exam.

If an emergency, such as weather or unforeseen circumstances, forces cancellation by OLP or Pearson VUE of an examination at a testing center, all scheduled candidates will be contacted and receive notification concerning the rescheduling and instructions for reapplying. We will do everything possible to minimize the inconvenience.

About Pearson VUE

Sample Test Center

Pearson VUE delivers over 4 million high-stakes exams a year for clients in the licensure, certification, academic admissions, regulatory and government testing service markets. It boasts the world's leading test center network with over 5,000 testing centers available, 165 countries and over 1,000 testing centers worldwide available for the CeDP exam. These centers utilize a patent-winning design which was created specifically for high-stakes testing and offers a carefully controlled, consistent testing environment.

What to Bring the Day of the Exam

Typically, you are asked to bring two forms of identification including one government-issued photo identification. Some testing programs may have additional requirements. You will receive a confirmation email with program-specific information. Wear comfortable clothing and shoes.

When to Arrive

Typically, you are asked to arrive at the test center 15-30 minutes prior to your scheduled appointment time. This extra time will give you an opportunity to check-in and to relax prior to beginning your test.

The amount of time you are asked to arrive at the test center before your scheduled appointment time differs for each program. You will receive a confirmation email with program-specific information.

Examination Room Restrictions

To maintain strict security, there are items that are not permitted in the examination room. These include a electronic devices including iPhones, iPads, Kindles (or similar devices), laptops, notebooks, Blackberry's, cellular telephones of any kind, digital watches, PDAs, calculators, purses, bags of any kind, coats and any written materials. You will receive an email once your application is accepted with more detailed instructions. Lockers are available on examination room premises for your convenience.

Results of Exam

Pearson VUE is required to submit test results to your testing program within 24-72 hours of its completion.

Security

Pearson VUE is committed to provide the most secure environment for the testing business of clients and takes great pride in overlapping layers of defense found in Pearson processes, protecting the integrity of your testing program, people, systems and data. Pearson employs a variety of security methodologies within test delivery outlets such as integrity shopping and advanced data forensics, to aid in the prevention of intellectual property theft, cheating and proxy test taking. The influence of Pearson's dedication to security can be seen throughout all levels of the organization from beginning to end.

Term of Certification

The CeDP® is awarded for two years to continuing members of OLP. Renewal after two years requires 16 hours of validated continuing education credit, completion of a re-certification exam, a re-certification fee and consecutive years' membership in OLP. Falsification or misrepresentation of application information will invalidate the applicant's certification.

Continuing Requirements

All CeDP designees must be a member of OLP. You can renew the certification every two years by taking a re-certification exam.

All CeDP must take 8 CLE units per year to maintain the certificate. CLE must include 2 units of ethics; 2 units of technology and 2 units of substantive law. Please submit proof of attendance to OLP.

Promoting Your Credential

Maximize the recognition of your CeDP® credential by taking the following steps:

- Be sure to include the CeDP designation on your business card, correspondence, resume and in professional social media such as LinkedIn.
- Inform your supervisor and Human Resources Department that you have earned the CeDP. To have confirmation of your CeDP sent to your employer, contact info@theolp.org.
- If your organization's Human Resources Department is not familiar with the CeDP program, direct them to the OLP website. (www.theolp.org) To request OLP brochures, please contact OLP member services at info@theolp.org or call 760-610-5462.
- Become an active member of the OLP community by participating in the OLP network online. Stay current with the OLP eJournal quarterly electronic newsletter, monthly newsletters, webinars, online courses and publications.
- Participate in mentoring programs organized by your local OLP chapter and take the opportunity to encourage other qualified professionals to consider applying for the CeDP.
- To obtain a sample press release contact info@theolp.org.

Educate and Inform

Here are some facts you may want to share with colleagues to increase awareness of OLP, the CeDP credential and its value as the gold standard credential for legal professionals.

- The CeDP program promotes mastery of eDiscovery, analysis, control, and decision support through a rigorous curriculum and an extensive exam process.
- The CeDP is an advanced professional certification specifically designed to measure the critical substantive, technology and management skills that are especially relevant for success in a law environment.

- Compliance with all laws, rules, ethics, policies and best practices is a requirement for maintaining the CeDP® credential.
- CeDP® designees can hold key management positions—all the way up to Managing Partner, Administrators and C-Suite—in a wide range of organizations including multinational law firms, corporations, government agencies, academic institutions, and not-for-profit organizations.

Candidates with Special Needs

Applicants having special needs should contact the OLP office to discuss testing requirements for persons with physical, sensory or learning disabilities. A Special Needs Request Form is provided within this Candidate Handbook.

Anti-Discrimination Policy

OLP places no importance and does not discriminate based upon age, gender, race, color, religion, national origin, sexual preference, disability or marital status.

Compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act

OLP does not discriminate against qualified individuals due to a disability in its programs, services, or activities. We are committed to providing access and reasonable accommodations to take the certification exam for those with disabilities in compliance with the American with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and corresponding state and federal law.

Under the ADA, anyone who has a physical or mental impairment substantially limiting one or more major life activities, has a record of such impairment, or is regarded as having such impairment, is considered a person with a disability. In accordance with the provisions of the ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, disabilities may include, but are not necessarily limited to, visual impairment, mobility and orthopedic impairments, hearing impairments, chronic medical conditions, learning disabilities, and psychological disorders.
